

Why Add a Support Block for Your Autodesk Software?

You rely on your software! When you have a deadline and questions arise, sure you can take time out and search online...but isn't your time more valuable?

The Autodesk subscription program does not include phone or online (GoToMeeting) technical support. Comm-Tech's experienced Application Engineers can fill that gap.

When you have a challenge that goes beyond emailing Autodesk Support, our Application Engineers can help you through your drawing challenges. When you need personal support, whether it's an error or a "how to" question, a support block with a real person, the same person every time, can be critical to your success.

Our yearly support block options include phone, email and online assistance* .

- Yearly
 - 1-4 seats $895
 - 5-9 seats $1195
 - 10 or more $1695

 Yearly agreements includes coverage on one Product (i.e. Civil 3D OR AutoCAD) with 1 Applications Engineer (AE). An additional AE can be added for $300. Autodesk products that are currently sold by Comm-Tech are eligible for a Support Block. All Support Blocks require that the client assign specific users/personnel that can call or email in for support.*
